

PRINT NAME _____

EDITING / AP Exercise No. 4

Sections O...P

01. OSHA and the U.S. Attorney's Office are investigating a possible wheel-chair fraud scheme that cheated pore people in St. John's Parish.
02. In the throes of an oreo high, the patrolling precinct 5 constable put the peddle to the metal when he found his first speeder.
03. The conference of the Organization of Petroleum Extorting Countries at Occidental Petroleum's New York headquarters was interrupted by picketers who caused a ceramic globe to fall off of the main meeting table.
04. Some call it a lift-off, others call it a take-off; in any case, the shuttle is ready for its next sendoff.
05. Looking over the port, or right, side of the ship, the Petty Officer used binoculars to spot the 5th Corp's position near a field of poinsettias.
06. Pastor Joseph McGillicuddy, Priest Chauncey O'Hallahan and Preacher Cephus T. Jones of Pittsburgh, Texas, agreed to take 50 per cent pay cuts for their consulting work, meaning their salaries would go to $5,000 from $10,000.
07. The prosecutor praised the Houston police department and voiced his doubts about the witness's story.

08. Long a proponent of one man, one vote, the candidate again praised that doctrine in his Primary Day speech.
09. The POW feared that his mother's prophesy would now come true.

Sections Q...R...S

10. Since the Space Age dawned with the Mercury I mission, NASA has recorded 357 space walks.
11. Jazz was all the rage in the Roaring 20's, and rock 'n roll ruled the Fifties, Sixties and Seventies. Now, rap has superceded those musical genres.
12. During the rein of King Edward, the oppressed Scotch looked upon William Wallace as a saviour.
13. The military spokesperson said the detainee hid the clip to a revolver within his Koran.
14. The quest in room 222 ordered salad with roquefort dressing.