

Name _____

EDITING / AP Exercise No. 6

Correct all style, spelling, taste, legal and factual errors you find. The style errors encompass the entire AP Stylebook. Note that all names other than obvious historical figures are fictional.

1. The telephone rang, but neither Sally or Bob were their to answer it.
2. The blond Asian-American divorcee mom was drinking chickery coffee slowly out of a styrofoam cup.
3. She drove north on I-45, looking for a connector to Highway 59. After going thirty miles at 55 miles per hour, she turned onto farm road 2090 and found her destination.
4. The bomb-damaged USS Cole is now underway with it's flag at half staff
5. The jury disregarded the defendent's self defense claim, using the bank video as the foundation for their decision reached in only 9 minutes.
6. He ran a virtual corporate guantlet at Du Pont while trying to learn why his wages were being garnished.
7. State Representative Tom Haley of Nacodoches, a former Marine Corp officer, has served 4 terms in the Texas legislature.
8. The four-foot-tall life-sized statue of Abraham Lincoln, created by 19th Century artist Baskerville Holmes, was moved to the lobby of the Central Intelligence Agency headquarters in Arlington, Va.
9. After paying back the fifty dollars, he asked this brother, "Now we are even-stephen, aren't we"?
10. The FAA's legal advisor was disinterested in the new documents; in fact, he put them down the disposal. "That's just a bunch of Pablum," he said.

11. The super-star athlete was a centerfielder, place kicker and goal tender on his high school teams and lead each to the play-offs.

12. He was arrested by agents from the Drug Enforcement Agency for using his web site to sell heroine.